Chapter 1 by Destiny Halloran

It was in the middle of the night and everyone was sleeping. Until the one noise woke up everyone causing a big disturbance. The one problem was no one knew what was happening, and when everyone went outside they looked around. The parents told the kids to go back to bed. When the kids left the bushes started moving and all you hear is grunts. When the parents saw the bushes move all they could think is 'What is that?'. Whenever the parents grabbed a flashlight they turned it on but the batteries were dead. So the parents grabbed new batteries and had placed them inside of the flashlight and shined it towards the bushes. But there was nothing there and nothing to be seen. So the parents go inside and hear the noise again only this time it's at the front door of Ari's House. So Ari wakes up and tells her dad she heard a noise and whenever she woke up her dad her dad went to check it out. The dad opened the front door and saw someone banging their head against the door. He asked for the man to stop but the man kept grunting and banging his head. The dad grabs the man's shoulder pulling him from the door and the next thing the dad knows he is getting his arm bit by this man. But the dad didn't think this was no man... This was a creature the dad pushes the man away and wraps his arm up with some bandages. Luckily he had some time to run away he goes up to grab Ari and warns the town. But he was too late everyone is already been infected. The dad drops Ari to the ground and Ari is crying because her dad has been infected. So Ari grabs a flashlight and runs off. She goes into the sewer and hides there for the rest of the night. She falls asleep and is good for the rest of the night, But she was not safe not safe at all. Later in the morning she thought she was in a dream but she was still in the sewers she was crying a lot but like her dad told her crying won't change a thing so she stopped crying and went out to the exit and looked at the town from the some food that she could eat she was very hungry. She finds a can of baby apples and she opens it. She eats it even though she is not a big fan of apples. Whenever she ate it she had a weird feeling inside she looks at her arm and sees she has been bit. She starts seeing things different and she walks very funny. The next day she is now one of them and thats how the 9 year old Ari has now died... Its a very sad ending but, heres the twist. She had left her 5 year old brother on his own who knows what could happen.. Heres how they forgot about him. He was sound asleep inside his closet he loves the dark and when the dad went to grab Ari he didnt see him and thought he had been infected. The brother is locked inside his closet with hungry monsters on the outside. Not knowing what is about to happen.
